

Situation	What I said	Next time, I'll try to say
During a group activity
During a successful transition
During independent work time
To recognize one student's efforts or achievements (best done privately to avoid embarrassing the student or engendering competition among classmates)
To recognize the efforts of the entire group
When students help each other
When I'm pleased with students' behavior or achievements		