

Responsive Classroom Course for Elementary Educators

For educators of grades PreK–5

Teaching today's elementary students means balancing endless expectations alongside the developmental needs of young learners. Between the increasing behavioral challenges and diverse learning styles, even the most dedicated teacher can feel challenged. This three-day Responsive Classroom course, grounded in research-based practices and strategies, provides elementary educators with practical strategies to establish learning environments where students feel emotionally safe, capable, and ready to learn.

Learn practical strategies to strengthen community, increase engagement, and establish smooth, consistent routines. You'll explore proactive, nonpunitive, dynamic teaching and discipline practices that help students grow socially, behaviorally, and academically.

Experience:

- Hands-on learning
- Modeling of proven strategies
- Meaningful collaboration
- Guided reflection

Leave with:

- Routines that increase engagement and reduce disruptions
- Teacher language tools that build independence and responsibility
- Proactive discipline strategies that support behavior and belonging
- Practical ways to connect academics and social skills using Fly Five

Participants receive:

- Three Days of Professional Learning (21 hours)

- Course Materials and Recognition

- Resource Book with Reflective Practitioner's Self-Assessment
- The First Six Weeks of School, 3rd edition
- Yardsticks: A Guide to Developmental Milestones for Children and Adolescents, 5th edition
- A certificate of completion and a digital badge

- One-Year Fly Five Curriculum License

An instructional support curriculum with lessons and tools that strengthen learning behaviors, classroom routines, and communication skills needed to fully engage in academic instruction.

Register for an Institute